Role Details:

- Duration: Four days, Thursday 13 - Sunday 16 June 2024 at Borders Book Festival.
- Hours: Variable hours negotiated to align with the festival programme.
- Objective: Assist with content creation, focusing on research and conducting interviews.
- Fee: £500

Applicants:

- This role is part of a project to support young people's progression within the media industry. To apply, applicants must be aged under 30.
- While applicants with strong connections to the Scottish Borders, such as those living, working, or studying in the region, will be at an advantage, we warmly encourage individuals from all backgrounds to apply.
- Borders Book Festival takes place in the grounds of Harmony House, St. Mary's Road, Melrose, TD6 9LJ. If successfully appointed, you are expected to make your own way to and from the venue. Some programme events will end later in the evening.

Responsibilities:

As an assistant to our team, your responsibilities will include:

- Assisting with pre-production tasks including research and planning for interviews.
- Conducting Interviews with authors, guests, and festival attendees.
- Assisting in post-production activities.
- Remaining flexible and ready to assist in various tasks to ensure the success of this brand new project.
- Help support our Trainee Content Creators (aged 16-25).

Benefits:

- Gain hands-on experience in a supportive, rewarding and fun environment.
- The chance to be creative, try out new ideas and build career confidence.
- Enhance your communication and presentation skills through on-camera interviews.
- Guidance from industry professionals including contributions from experienced broadcast journalists Sally Magnusson, James Naughtie' and Stephen Jardine.
- Great networking opportunities. Connect with authors, guests, and industry pros.
- Boost your portfolio with real interview content and credits.
- Be part of one of the most exciting book festivals in Scotland.
- Enjoy some free food! Festival Food Village vouchers are on us.

Desired qualifications, skills and experience:

We're searching for enthusiastic young individuals under 30 who show confidence in front of the camera when asking questions. While we are interested in those with qualifications in journalism, media studies or wider creative industry subjects, experience also counts. Therefore, we place equal value on those who can demonstrate practical skills and experience with a natural ability to engage with interview subjects. If you're passionate about storytelling and a career in the media, we want to hear from you!

Additional information:

This role is a freelance position for the duration of the Bloom Media project at the Borders Book Festival. As a freelancer, you will be responsible for managing your own tax and National Insurance contributions in compliance with UK regulations.
